The statement most current in political circles, is that contiers are on their way to St. Petersburg, with a joint note, demanding a categorical reply within one week, whether the Czor will evacuate the Principalities before April 30th; a refusal or no answer to be considered as a declaration of wat against the allies. By the 18th or 20th of March the reply will be before Europe. It was to the effect that offsets of real and personal property, as well as of credits, night be made against the debts of the owner. SENATE CHAMBER, MADISON, March 15, 1854.

Dear Sir :- I beg leave to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 13th inst., conveying an invitation to attend a festival to be given by the "Hibernian Mutual Benefit Society" of your city, on the nuniversary and in honor of the Illustrious Patron Saint of Ireland. I feel honored, not only for the compliment, but likewise for the very courteaus manner in which you con-veyed the invitation, and had I the disposal of my time, I would certainly consider it a duty to be present at, and participate in your proceedings. As an humble son of the "tine old land," glory in and take pride at, the generous re-unions which the return of the day you celebrate, begets throughout the entire Union, and not only in America alone, but all over the whole world, wherever a few Irishmen may happen to be thrown together-be it in the sunny South or icy North-in the Arctic or Antartic regions-in secluded ralley of the Gila-the Savannahs of Australia-the sandy plains of Africa-the crowd ed and busy cities of our Eastern Scaboard or in the happy and thriving homesteads o our countrymen scattered over our own State .toils and troubles the wanderings and wayfarings, the changes and reverses of fortune, be they prosperous or otherwise, are forgotten for the nonce; and memory takes us back to our old associations, and by-gone scenes and times. The rippling brook, the purling stream, the hill, dale, valley, glen or mountain of our own immediate places of nativity come rushing fondly, softly and sweetly to our senses, until in fancy we hear the voices of leved friends, the tolling of the church bell, the bubbling of the brook, or the echoing of the Glen. And sir, this is as it should and ought to be. What else have we left to preserve our nationality? Our name as a people? nothing, but the annual commemoration of the 17th day o March. And in thus celebrating that day, far away in the West, do we not give by the respecwhich we pay to the land of our birth and its patron Saint, a guarantee for our becoming good, true and mithful citizens of these United States Depend upon it that a people who love and enerate their Fatherland, cannot fail becoming faithful citizens to the land of their adoption and foremost when occasion requires to battle for its laws and institutions. I remain, dear sir, respectfully yours,

The Land Grant Bill.

The defeat of this bill is a subject of general rejoicing among the press, east as well as west.--We copy a few specimens, from the editorials and Washington letters of different papers. From the Buffalo Commercial.

From the Buffalo Commercial.

The House has finally laid a crushing hand upon all the railroad hills- On Friday last the coun de grace was given to the Minuesota bill, the least objectionable of the batch; and to day, after a series of close, votes, the Wisconsin bill was pronounced dead, which ends the chapter.—For the present session nothing further can be done with these special grants, unless their friends enter into combinations with the members from the old States; to pass them in connection with Bennett's bill; giving the old States, their share with the new States.

The immense private fortunes which Robert J. Walker, Hon J. B. Macy and others would have made had the bill passed, are now in middless again, where they were before it was concorted.

From the N. Y. Express.

In my letter yesterday, I spoke f the action of the House upon the Wisconsin Railroad bill. I was not then aware, of the final action of the House upon the bill. This final action I regard as decisive, of the fals of all the other railroad bills which passed the Senate in one half hour time. The objection to the railroad bills in the House is, not so much on account of conomittion. time. The objection to the railroad bills in the House is not so much on account of opposition to the bills themselves, as to the manuer in which they were attempted to be passed through Congress and the speculators interested in them.—

Ex-members and lobby members of all descriptions, it is raid, have been engaged with large contingent fees, to produce the passage of many of these bills, which, in themselves, are good, and the knowledge of that fact has damaged them. If members were convinced that these railroad bills would benefit the States in which the railroads are proposed to be built without creating large monopolies, and thus enriching a few individuals, I have no doubt, every railroad which is really necessary, would receive a grant of land.

sing—every. No matter how enormous or audacious the contemplated act, if it is for the peculiar institution, that is enough, the South is united and acts as one man. In relation to the Medican bill, with very few exceptions, the South proves itself a unit. Whige and Democrati, slike worship at the shrine of the Moloch of Slavery, and make their daily sacrifices. Political differences and distinctions are at once forgotten, and southern politicians sink their political associations in their sectional devation.

The North is not united. As a people we are not true to ourselves, but whenever we come in collision with principles and measures of antagonism, if they chance to be of southern origin, enough in our ranks can be found who are so plastic that the touch of a southern finger leaves its black impress, and we are sold out. Is the North united on the Nebraska bill? Let the votes and speeches of northern Senators upon that question reveal the fact. Where are the thirty-one Representatives of free States, in the United States. Senate, that they should have been over role and tradden down by the twenty-eight Senators who represent slavery? In view of the sectional issue made by the South unon this land.

The defeat of the Wisconsin Rultroad bill in the House is ominious of the fate of all the other pending Railroad bills. The lobby is in despair and speculators hang their heads. There is some virtue exant after all, Falsaff to the contrary notwithstanding. There is a strong feeling at the South, against the squandering of the national domain. From the N. Y. Times.

"And the New York Assey, appropriation is threatened for Mr. Gutting's rote! We shall see how this will work. If the new establishment is to exist only by the breath of the Wisconsin member—who was really defeated in his designs upon the public domain by the remonstrance at Washington, of a highly respectable delegation from his own State—the sooner the fact is known, the better for all concerned. The blow would not be a grierous one to New York, from such a source, while the saving to the Treasury would be a layor which it is not likely to owe to any other act of legislation by the Wisconsin member. We shall not at present, however, give the subject so much concern as to believe that he has, or can have, the slightest claim to leadership among the Western members or that he can, by any possibility, nor even by the extremest means of legrolling, succeed in identifying his private speculation with the great Land or Railroad interests of the West. If he feels that he would like to have some other motive to "kill the New York Assay Office" than the vote of Mr. Cutting, he is heartify welcome to seek it in the condemnation of his manimoth job by the New York pree." This is in allusion to a rumored threat of M Macr's to make New York pay for Mr. Curring's opposition to his bill.

The Aspects of the Question.

The South unites for the Nebraska bill. Wby

There is eminent pertinency and force in this proposition of our Albany contemporary. When, let us ask, bas not the South been united in its schemes for southern aggrandisement? And when, has the North been a unit and true to northern has the North been a unit and true to northern interests, when brought in collision with the South? The most casual observer cannot fail to have discovered that the South in all matters partining to southern interest; this acted upon the principle that union is strength. There is no halting hesitation there—no yielding—no temportizing—every man takes his place, and stands by slavery. No matter, how enormous or audactous the contemplated set, if it is for the peculiar interest of the second the isomether the process of the contemplated set, if it is for the peculiar interest.

REPORT.

Comptroller's Office.

Milwaukee, March 14th, 1854.

TO THE MATOR AND COMMON COUNCIL :-

Laubinit herewith a statement of the financial condition of the City at this date.

A Ward accounts each exhibit a balance in the Treas. and that the expenditures of 1852 and 1853 have been within the amount of tax collected, as the law requires.

The City and Ward Old Debt accounts exhibit balances of debt accrued by an excess of expenditures, over tax collected in previous years.

To meet this indebtedness to the city, the charter provides that a tax of not exceeding one per cent. shall annually be levied upon the property in the respective wards. No such tax has yet been levied. Deeming it inexpedient to increase taxes beyond the amount required to meet the necessary expenses of the city, to pay the interest on the debt, and to make improvements demanded in the different wards, my annual estimates bave not embraced this item. Heretofore, revenue raised for similar purposes, has been otherwise appropriated and, were such a fund annually raised, our necessities would most likely occasion drafts upon it for other purposes, until expansed, besides, until the delinquent tax account is closed, the actual indebtedness of the wards will not be shown by there accounts. In the assumption of the debt of the wards by the city, each ward has been credited with its portion of delinquent taxes, and all losses sustained on special taxes inchaded in the tax certificates in the treasury for years prior to 1852, have been charged to the same accounts; they are, therefore, annually increasing, some in a greater ratio than others; and when the delinquent tax account is closed, the indebtedness of the wards, and the taxable property in each, may bear such proportion to the whole amount of taxable property in the city, as to admit of a transfer of the whole, or nearly -o, to the General City Old Debt, and thus avoid accounts with the wards in providing for the debt. The City Old Debt account will be liable to the charge of payments to be Mil. and Miss. Rail Road Co. of all collections of delinqueen Rail Road Tax, and to the State and County of all coltections of delinquent State and County Taxes prior to 1852.

While upon this subject of old debts, it may not be amiss in this, my second annual report, exhibiting the condition of the Finances now, as well as the receipts and disbursements of the last two years—to advert briefly to their condition at the time of the adoption of the new charter, and the changes wrought by the new system, and the policy pursued under it.

When the assumption of the ward debts by the city was commenced, in the spring of 1852, by the issue of city bonds, the amount of the floating debt was about one hundred and torty thousand dollars, and the credit of the city so much impaired, that the holders of evidences of indebtedness, with few exceptions, declined taking bonds on any terms.

Injunctions were over the head of the treasurer, which could only be removed with money. Interest on some of the school house and fire loan bonds held in New York was past due, and pressing demands being made for immediate payment. Some two thousand dollars more was due in New York, in a few days after the installation of officers under the new charter, and not a dollar in the treasury.

One of the first acts of the proper officers, was, by the aid of a few citizens who volunteered their names for that purpose, to borrow money to provide for such interest immediately. Doing so, lavored the negotiations of the treasurer in New Tork for a sale of ten thousand dollars, ten year ten per cent. bonds, at a premium of one per cent. It was then deemed policy, at that rate of interest, to make the bonds on shorter time, and accordingly the next issues were on five years. Sales of these were soon made at par, when holders of orders wook freely of them-a favorable state of the money market soon occasioned a demand for these, and a premium was soon obtained. The city then availed herself of this improved state of things, by selling bonds at the premium, and paying off in part the remaining indebtedness with cash, and afterwards a portion with seven per cent, bonds. A premium of five to six per cent, and upwards was realized by the city on a considerable amount of these ten per cent. bonds. The interest on them has so far been punctually paid, and during last summer they advanced in New York to a hundred and ten cents; and should the interest continue to be paid when due, and a favorable state of the money market at the proper time made available, this indebtedness may be extended some ten or more years, at a greatly reduced rate of interest, should our enecessor deem it policy to so extend it, as contemplated by the issue on short time.

The effect of the policy pursued under the new charter, and E rigid observance of its provisions, in raising and disbursing the revenue, may be seen, if not in a perceptible reduction of taxes, in the fact that an annual increase of debt has been arrested, provided the present system of making improvements of streets, &c., at the expense of property adjoining works as is contemplated by the charter, to-wit: that the city or the wards shall, in no event, be held liable for the payment of certificates issued to contractors by street commissioners; and in the fact that the order system is practically abolished.

It will be seen, by reference to the accounts with street commissioners' certificates, that the delinquency of the last year has been large-this is the natural result of the system. Under it the work is always done at a higher price, when contracted by the commissioners, than for cash; and, necessarily, for the reason that the certificates issued to the contractor will not command cash at their face; therefore, if owners of property thus taxed, have not been able to procure these certificates on satisfactory terms prior to the sale of the treasurer for taxes, their property is permitted to be sold, with the knowledge that the certificate will, at any time, pay the tax, and with the expectation that it may sooner or later be, purchased at a discount.

The opinion that these taxes will not be held by the courts w be a lien upon the property, is too prevalent for the good

The interests of property holders require, if the law is good for anything, that the orders of the street commissioners should be obeyed, and the work done by themselves as contemplated by law. If the orders are deemed premature, or otherwise improper, a remedy is provided by the same law, of which they should, in due season, avail themselves; and it should be more generally understood that the proceedings under this law are simple and natural, and that the countersigning of the certificates is equivalent to a certificate of the comptroller, that there is existing evidence of the regularity of the proceed-

In each of the accounts of taxes levied for opening streets and alleys, it will be seen there is a deficit to the extent of sary to pay the damages av arded, and expenses incurredthere will in all cases be a deficiency to the same extent. Whether this deficiency shall be paid by the ward in which the expense is incurred, or by the city, authority to raise a tax to pay it will be necessary; it is an item for which no estimate can be made by the comptroller, and may amount, in a single year, to more than could be paid from either fund.

A fund for the construction of the Spring street and Walker's Point Bridges, and the purchase of a lot, and building thereon a house for Engine Co. No. 2, being provided from the delinquent tax fund, it was my intention to present, in connection with this report, a statement of the amount of old debt paid by the treasurer over the proceeds of bonds sold, and also the total amount of collections of delinquent taxes of 1851 and prior years, but have not been able to do so since the examination and entries of the treasurer's account. This labor will therefore, necessarily, devolve upon my successor, to enable him to determine whether this fund has been so far encroached upon, in the payment of old debts, as to leave an insufficient amount to pay the contractor, as the work of constructing the bridges progresses, in accordance with the terms of the contract.

The account with the bridges exhibits the amount now paid on account of their construction.

The lot for the engine house has been paid for and is charged to fire department property.

The house is completed and paid for, with the exception of two hundred dollars, which, by the terms of the contract, is payable one year from the completion of the work.

Five thousand dollars of the bonds authorized to be issued by your resolution of October 11th last, were issued, and are now hypothecated for a loan of three thousand dollars, as reported on the 6th inst., and my successor will undoubtedly be able, by short loans, to avoid the sale of these bonds, as collections of delinquent taxes will continue to replenish this fund. -

On the 6th inst., and since the old debt interest account, as part of this report was made up, the interest due in New York on the 31st this month and 10th of April, amounting to fifteen thousand nine hundred fifty-three dollars and seventy-five cenis, has been provided for, as this day reported, and the proper entries made, leaving only fifteen hundred and ninetyfive dollars to be paid during the balance of the year.

An abstract of the account with the treasurer, even date with the other accounts, is annexed, showing a balance to his debit of twenty-four thousand two hundred eighty-six and 86-100 dollars. The loan of three thousand dollars to be entered to his debit, and the payment of interest to his credit on the books, after the balances, as here reported, are brought down.

Appended, also, are schedules of items of expenditures of the city and ward funds for the year ending March 4th. 1854. as audited.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The proprietors of the St. Nicholas Hotel, Broadway, New-York, lave the pleasure of announcing to their vineds and the travelling public, that the last addition to the building consisting of the son here wing, laving been completed and unrished, the entire Horizon properties and control of the original design, and offering ample accommodation for one thousand person, is more open for the recognic of guests. The new section, opened this spring, is fitted up and fentihed in the same sample mous cript as the other cortices of the establishment—the Bt.
